

CMEpalooza's SIGNS OF SPRING

Baseball (choose 1)

Projects in Knowledge

Your starting pitcher has totally lost control of the game and has walked the bases loaded. Perhaps you can go to the mound for a quick interactive and customizable learning experience to help him get back on track. Projects in Knowledge offers just this kind of experience for healthcare professionals that allows them to build their own dynamic, interactive panel discussion in real-time from nationally recognized speakers' video streams. What do they call this platform?

infograph-ed

There is no "I" in baseball, which must mean that it's a team sport. Likewise, infograph-ed is all about creating materials for "teams" of individuals. Name two of the five "teams" they serve.

Iridium CE

Based on their Opening Day performance, our beloved Philadelphia Phillies may just have the same number of strikeouts on the season as Iridium has "Credits Claimed." How many is this?

Rain (choose 1)

Global Learning Collaborative

It's raining here, it's raining there, it's raining everywhere! Well, at least it's raining somewhere in the five continents that this Global Learning Collaborative company educates clinicians.

Integritas Communications

Want to stay dry in a rainstorm? Find a bridge to cower under. One of the things Integritas is able to do with its education is to build those bridges (though probably not physical bridges). Provide the title of one recent Integritas activities where bridges were "built."

Paradigm Medical Education

In 2024, Paradigm won two Gold Digital Health Awards. One of them came from an activity that you should probably participate in with your umbrella. Name the activity.

Birds (choose 1)

Academic CME

Despite Elon's best efforts, we are still calling them Tweetorials (I guess X-orcisms just doesn't have the same ring to it). Name one of the Tweetorials currently offered by Academic CME.

DKBMed

It's important for birds to have a safe, stable home to come back to at night to rest, lay eggs, and just basically frolic. What member of the DKBMed team, who joined the organization in August 2019, is clearly attuned to the needs of our airborne friends due to his “roost-like” name?

Talem Health

The early bird gets the worm! OK, maybe 8 am isn’t that early, but it was the starting time for this virtual live conference held in March coordinated by one of Talem Health’s educational divisions.

Spring Break (choose 1)

Medscape

Whoops – looks like someone forgot to pack the sunscreen. Just in case, you might want to check out one of Medscape’s currently accredited programs focused on skin cancer. Name the title of one of them.

Catalyst Medical Education

Everyone wants to be the guy/gal in the fancy red convertible cruising down the street at a luxurious 5 mph during Spring Break. But when the cops show up, you might want to do this, which also happens to be part of Catalyst Medical Education’s tagline.

Med-IQ

Oh, those Spring Breakers and their drug use. I’m talking about speed here – you may know it as methamphetamine. Med-IQ is a big fan of speed -- no, not that kind of speed, but rather this acronym associated with the management of hypertrophic cardiomyopathy (HCM) in one of their recent accredited activities.

Weddings (choose 1)

Medlive

The foundation of a marriage is a strong partnership. In some ways, the foundation of a successful CME initiative is also a strong partnership. Name two partners that Medlive has worked with recently to develop its education.

CMEology

Yes, I love you enough to want to marry you, but do you bring value to our relationship? There may not be an equation for that, but CMEology does offer an equation on whether or not education should be initiated. What is the equation?

Vindico Medical Education

Oh no! You forgot to bring a gift to your best friend’s wedding! You’d better get on Amazon right quick and order something with this designation, which just happens to be the title of an upcoming retina symposium being hosted by Vindico. Name this symposium.

Gardening (choose 1)

Bonum CE

Getting your hands dirty in your own backyard can be fun. But getting your hands dirty in this appropriately themed location in South Africa where Bonum CE founder Allison Kickel loves to visit is probably a bit more exotic and enjoyable.

Excalibur Medical Education

Looks like one of our clinicians has a green thumb. In what Excalibur activity thumbnail can you find a plant sitting in the exam room?

Academy for Continued Healthcare Learning

Before we plant anything, we need to clean up the leftover leaves strewn along the ground. That's exactly what the ACHL team is doing to its "tree of expertise." Name the title of three areas identified on its "leaves."

Easter (choose 1)

Healio CME

Nothing brings down a holiday get-together like a child with the flu. Name the Healio CME video activity where you can learn strategies to avoid having your adolescent "feeling icky" with the flu around your family.

Global Education Group

Hmm, what to make for this year's Easter feast? Maybe Global Education Group will give me some inspiration, seeing how they had BIG NEWS in March that they suggested should stop you from doing anything unless you are doing this.

Partners for Advancing Clinical Education

Don't pig out at Easter brunch, especially on those chocolate bunnies that rot your teeth. If you do, you might need to visit one of these two "D" specialty providers, both of which can earn credit through PACE activities.

April Fools Day (choose 1)

Med Learning Group

It's no joke: name the title of one the activities hosted by Med Learning Group on April 1.

HMP Global

HMP Global will be offering a special Build Your Own April Fools Day prank booth (not really) at an event they are coordinating from March 31-April 2 in Palm Beach Gardens, FL. Name this event.

PVI

Did you know that they celebrate April Fools Day on April 2 in Austria? OK, I just made that up (April Fools!). But if it were indeed true, you could “celebrate” with the PVI gang at this live symposium taking place during the International Conference on Alzheimer’s and Parkinson’s Diseases.
